WHAT ARE THE HUMANITIES?

The humanities are the study of the different ways in which people process and document the human experience. Humans use philosophy, literature, religion, art, music, history, dance, film, and language to understand and record the world around them. Studying these works gives us a sense of connection to other cultures and an appreciation of diversity.

It is in Apple's DNA that technology alone is not enough—it's technology married with liberal arts, married with the humanities, that yields us the results that make our heart sing.

— Steve Jobs

IMPORTANCE OF THE HUMANITIES

Humanities broaden your perspective and understanding of the world, and also increase your chances of getting a job. A recent survey shows that top companies rate "global outlook" as the No. 3 of the top 15 skills they look for in job candidates.

Another recent study shows that Humanities majors most commonly work in education; arts, design, entertainment, and media; publishing; community and social services; business administration, sales, and management; and law.

WHAT DOES A DEGREE IN HUMANITIES OFFER?

At MSU, we take an interdisciplinary approach to cultures throughout the world, from the origins of culture through present day. Only through studying the perspectives and values of other cultures can we assess our own.

FINANCIAL AID

MSU offers a number of financial aid programs including

- Mustangs Guarantee Program
- Academic scholarships
- College Work Study and student employment
- Grants and loans

To learn more about these programs and others, visit mwsu.edu/finaid.

No culture can live if it insists on being exclusive.

— Mahatma Gandhi
