MARK YOUR CALENDAR

Classic Film Series: The Big Chill

Continuing Education's Classic Film Series and Janis Linville present Lawrence Kasdan's 1983 big-budget film, The Big Chill, at 7 p.m. Tuesday, February 22, at the Museum of Art at MSU. A cluster of old college radicals, who have since gone on to sundry professions and various degrees of materialism, reunite over the death of a friend. The attractive cast meshes perfectly into a group of characters for which a former closeness is out of synch with their current lives, yet their warmth is enviable and inviting. Admission is free; donations welcome. For more information, call ext. 4756.

What School Systems Want

For those individual interested in pursuing a career in teaching, ACEI and the Career Management Center are co-sponsoring an employer panel at 6 p.m. Thursday, February 24, in the Clark Student Center Shawnee Theater. Area principals will be available to provide valuable advice about careers in education and how to conduct a successful employment search. Elementary and secondary principals will be present. For additional information, contact the Career Management Center at ext. 4473.
