UGROW Symposium

The annual Undergraduate Research Opportunities and Summer Workshop (UGROW) Symposium is Friday, July 1. UGROW is an initiative at Midwestern State University to give biology, chemistry, computer science, engineering, geoscience, and math students the opportunity to be involved in research in an interdisciplinary environment. Selected students received a $1,000 stipend in the summer and will receive a $1,000 Scholarship for the fall semester. UGROW participants will present their research at the symposium this Friday.
