Instead make a donation of toiletries or cleaning supplies for First Step. This offer is good for any books belonging to Moffett Library as well as DVDs or CDs belonging to Moffett.

Wednesday, April 17, is Popcorn Night at the library on the first floor. An informal booth, Show Some Love to the Library, will be available for you. Be willing to hold up a sign stating what you love about Moffett Library or what you would like to see changed. Chris Henderson, Media Librarian, will be manning the booth from 6-8 p.m. Wednesday. Contact Andrea Williams at ext. 4698 for more information.

Faculty Forum Series: Ann Marie Leimer

Leimer is Chair and Associate Professor for the Juanita and Ralph Harvey School of Visual Arts. How do contemporary Chicana/o artists use pre-contact, colonial, modern, and contemporary sources to construct and perform post-modernity identities? César Martínez, Laura Aguilar, and John Jota Leaños provide diverse answers to this question. Leimer's presentation provides a close visual analysis of the works of these three contemporary artists and demonstrates the range of their influences through visual comparison with a number of artistic precedents.
