Approval of Minutes

Dr. White called for a motion to approve the minutes of the March 2011 and April 2011 Academic Council meetings. Dr. Nemecek made a motion that the minutes be adopted; Dr. Watson seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted. (closed)

Old Business

There being no Old Business to discuss, the Council moved on to New Business.

New Business

1. Dr. Lamb and Mr. Welch presented information on recent MSU Career Fairs. They shared their concerns with a drop in student participation and asked the council if they had any advice on ways to improve the Fair. Mr. Welch remarked that the Fair is an opportunity for students to meet with prospective employers, build contacts, and engage in the interview/hiring process. He provided a handout showing employer and student attendance at other Texas universities.

Dr. Lamb stated that they were here today at the Academic Council to voice their awareness and concern of possible loss of opportunities for students to meet potential employers. He asked the deans to think about how they can better serve the colleges and their students. Mr. Welch will follow up with the individual deans to generate ideas for the Career Fairs and opportunities within the colleges. (information item).

2. Dr. Watson made a motion to adopt the following undergraduate course and catalog changes in English and Philosophy; Dr. Cate seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted (closed).

English

Change of Course Description and Change of Course Title, effective Fall 2011:

5. Dr. Harvey made a motion to adopt the following undergraduate course and catalog changes in Music; Dr. Carlston seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted (closed).

Music and Theatre, effective Fall 2011

Changes in Catalog Copy (page 195 in the 2010-2012 catalog) – changes in bold/italic

The term “major ensemble” as used in the curricula includes University Symphonic Band, Wind Ensemble, or University Marching Band for students concentrating in instrumental music, and University Singers for students concentrating in vocal music. Students concentrating in keyboard music or guitar may select from any of the major ensembles mentioned above. Ensembles other than University Symphonic Band, Wind Ensemble, University Marching Band, and University Singers are considered “secondary,” with the exception that students may be enrolled in Oratorio Chorus instead of University Singers as a major ensemble at the sole discretion of the Director of Choral Activities. All music majors must participate in at least one major ensemble for credit each semester of enrollment (minimum of 7 semester credit hours for teacher certification and 8 semester hours for performance).

Additional Numbers (sophomore and senior level) for AMUS, MUSC, and THEA classes –

Technically these are new courses. Rationale (from National Office for Arts Accreditation): “This advisory addresses ... issues in federal regulations due to go into effect on July 1 (2011) for all institutions participating in Title IV and other grant programs under the Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008. As with the previous advisory on misrepresentation, please review these issues in relation to the operation of your specific programs and take action accordingly.

Full-time student: An enrolled student who is carrying a full-time academic workload, as determined by the institution, under a standard applicable to all students enrolled in a particular educational program. The student’s workload may include any combination of courses, work, research, or special studies that the institution considers sufficient to classify the student as a full-time student, including for a term-based program, repeating any coursework previously taken in the program but not including either more than one repetition of a previously passed course, or any repetition of a previously passed course due to the student failing other coursework. However, for an undergraduate student, an institution’s minimum standard must equal or exceed one of the following minimum requirements: (Under this rule, arts units cannot retain the same course number for more than one repetition for any type of course for which credit is awarded. If the student passes the course, and repeats it more than once, the costs of that credit cannot be covered with Title IV funds. If your institution uses the same course number for studio, performance, team project, ensemble, exhibition, independent study, or similar lessons, classes, or courses on a multi-year basis, changes will need to be made in the course number system in order to avoid the financial consequences associated with this rule.”)

Catalog Changes, effective Fall 2012

Proposed Degree plan for Undergraduate Major in Computer Science:

The requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Science with a major in computer science are as follows:

Bachelor of Science (see page ??)

Program Requirements

Major Computer Science 1044, 1063, 2084, 2143, 2433, 3013, 3023, 3233, 4103, 4113, 4143, 4991, and 15 hours of advanced computer science electives. (Computer Science 1013, 1023, and 1033 may not be counted toward a major in Computer Science.)

Minor is not required.

Additional Requirements MATH 1534, 1634, 1734, and 3 hours from 3533, 3833, or 4243
PHYS 1624, 2644, Computer Science Exit Exam

The requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Arts with a major in computer science are as follows:

Bachelor of Arts (see page ??)

Program Requirements

Major Computer Science 1044, 1063, 2084, 2143, 2433, 3013, 3023, 3233, 4103, 4113, 4143, 4991, and 15 hours of advanced computer science electives. (Computer Science 1013, 1023, and 1033 may not be counted toward a major in Computer Science.)

Minor is not required.

Additional Requirements MATH 1233, 1433, STAT 3573, Computer Science Exit Exam

Minor in Computer Science

The requirements for a minor in Computer Science are Computer Science 1044, 1063, 2084, 2143, 2433, 3013, 6 hours of advanced computer science electives.

New Course Additions, effective Fall 2012:

CMPS 1063. Data Structures and ADT

Prerequisite(s): Minimum grades of C in CMPS 1044, and MATH 1233 or 1534

Description: A continuation of the development of a disciplined approach to the design, coding, debugging and testing of programs. Introduction to data structures, abstract data types (ADT), recursion, and algorithm analysis using a high-level language.

Lecture 3(3-0)

CMPS 2143. Object-Oriented Programming

Prerequisite(s): Minimum grade of C in CMPS 1063

Description: Introduction to object-oriented programming techniques including but not limited to classes, objects, inheritance, polymorphism, and overloading. Various object-oriented languages will be considered.

Lecture 3(3-0)

CMPS 2433. Discrete Structures and Analysis

Prerequisite(s): Minimum grades of C in CMPS 1063, and MATH 1233 or 1534
Description: Introduction to the fundamental techniques of algorithm analysis. Also, Boolean logic, combinatorics, functions, graphs, algebraic structures, recursion, recurrence relations, finite state machine and computability.
Lecture 3(3-0)

CMPS 3013. Advanced Structures and Algorithms
Prerequisite(s): Minimum grade of C in CMPS 2433
Description: In-depth study of complexity analysis and variety of advanced structures and related algorithms. Topics will be selected from trees, heaps, priority queues, graphs, hashing, sorting, pattern matching, recursion and others as appropriate.
Lecture 3(3-0)

Change of Course Prerequisite, effective Fall 2012

CMPS 3233. Theory of Computation
Prerequisite(s): Minimum grades of C in CMPS 1063 and 2433

CMPS 3493. Internet Programming
Prerequisite(s): Minimum grade of C in CMPS 1063

CMPS 4103. Introduction to Operating Systems
Prerequisite(s): Minimum grades of C in CMPS 2084 and 3013

CMPS 4113. Software Engineering
Prerequisite(s): CMPS 2143, 3013, and 6 advance hours in computer science

CMPS 4143. Contemporary Programming Languages
Prerequisite(s): CMPS 2143

CMPS 4213. Introduction to Computer Graphics
Prerequisite(s): CMPS 2143, 3013, and MATH 1634

CMPS 4223. Introduction to Simulation
Prerequisite(s): CMPS 2433

CMPS 4233. Artificial Intelligence
Prerequisite(s): CMPS 3013

CMPS 4433. Computer Communications and Networks
Prerequisite(s): CMPS 1063, 2084, and 2433

Change of Course Description and Prerequisite, effective Fall 2012

CMPS 3533. Numerical analysis
Prerequisite(s): CMPS 1044 and MATH 1734
Description: Use of numerical methods to solve problems including but not limited to the following: function approximation, solutions of equations, numerical calculus, and differential equations. Includes analysis of problems and the design and writing of programs. (MATH 3533 and CMPS 3533 cannot both be taken for credit.)
Lecture 3(3-0)

Change of Course Title and Prerequisite, effective Fall 2012

CMPS 4123. ~~Database Managements Systems~~ Data Base Management Systems
Prerequisite(s): CMPS 3013

Change in Course Number and Lecture/Lab Hours, effective Fall 2012

CMPS ~~4043~~. 1044. Computer Science I

Prerequisite(s): Concurrent enrollment in MATH 1233 or 1534 or 1203 (for business majors)
Lecture/Lab ~~3(3-0)~~ 4(3-2)

10. Dr. Hamilton made a motion to adopt the following graduate course and catalog changes in Finance; Dr. Carlston seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted (closed).

Finance

Change in Course Description, effective Fall 2011:

FINC 5733. Investments

From Description: ~~Study of various investment markets with special emphasis on corporate and government securities; the effect of investment control by the federal government evaluated from viewpoint of the public and the investor.~~

To Description: Characteristics and valuation of investment instruments including common stocks, bonds, and options; function and efficiency of securities markets; diversification and portfolio theory

Change in Course Description and Prerequisite, effective Fall 2011:

FINC 5833. Security Analysis and Portfolio Managements

From Prerequisite(s): ~~BUAD 3033 and FINC 3733 and consent of the Graduate Coordinator.~~

To Prerequisite(s): FINC 4733 or FINC 5733, and consent of the Graduate Coordinator

From Description: ~~A study of the theory of portfolio management and includes an examination of investment alternatives, security valuation, investment timing, diversification, and risk reduction.~~

To Description: Security valuation and selection; theory and practice of portfolio management including asset allocation, diversification, and portfolio performance evaluation.

11. Dr. Nemecek made a motion to adopt the following graduate course and catalog change in Finance; Dr. Hamilton seconded, and discussion opened on the wording and meaning of the proposed item. Dr. Nemecek asked that the original motion be temporarily put aside while her college reworked the proposal and it would then be sent to the Academic Council with the motion for an electronic vote to adopt the proposal; Dr. Hamilton seconded; and no objections were made. The proposal was rewritten and submitted to the Council on June 6 for an electronic vote. The motion to adopt the following course and catalog changes was unanimously adopted (closed).

New Course Addition, effective Fall 2011:

FINC 5943. Student Managed Investment Fund II

Prerequisite(s): FINC 4733 or FINC 5733 with a grade of "B" or higher, consent of the instructor and the Graduate Coordinator. The course must be taken in a consecutive semester following FINC 5933 for a total of 6 credit hours. Students must have earned a grade of "C" or higher in FINC 5933.

Description: Security analysis and portfolio management in conjunction with the management of the Student Managed Investment Fund; security valuation and selection, asset allocation, diversification, and portfolio performance evaluation.

Lecture 3(3-0)

Justification: The proposed course is to be taken by MBA students who are a student manager of the Student Managed Investment Fund.

12. Dr. Hamilton made a motion to adopt the following graduate course and catalog changes in Sport Administration; Dr. Nemecek seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted (closed).

Sport Administration

Change in Course Title and Description, effective Fall 2011

From: SPAD 5113. ~~The Coaching Experience~~

To: SPAD 5113. Leadership and Coaching in Sport Programs

From Description: ~~Overview experience of coaching, to include a quasi-internship/observation experience, day to day operations, and the application and use of technology.~~

To Description: Examination of the role and responsibilities of the coach in interscholastic, intercollegiate, and elite athletics. Major topics include ethics, finances, legal issues, recruiting, risk management, staffing, practice design, and governing body regulations.

From: SPAD 5513. ~~Adaptation and Diversity~~

To: SPAD 5513. Managing Diversity in Sport Environments

From Description: ~~An inclusive study of the theoretical and practical knowledge essential for curriculum theory and development, assessment applications, instructional design, and ethical issues in physical education, recreation, and sports for individuals with disabilities and cultural differences throughout the lifespan.~~

To Description: Examination of the ways in which people differ and how these differences can influence sport organizations. Major topics include age, race, mental and physical ability, gender, sexual orientation, religious beliefs, and social class.

From: SPAD 5803. ~~Current Issues: Intercollegiate Athletics~~

To: SPAD 5803. Athletic Administration

From Description: ~~Seminar based on student-generated topics associated with current issues in intercollegiate athletics.~~

To Description: Issues involved in the administration of school and college athletics are considered, as well as relationships with state and national athletic foundations and conferences.

New Course Additions, effective Fall 2011:

SPAD 6013. Graduate Field Experience in Sport Administration

Prerequisites: 9 hours of graduate work in Sport Administration and consent of instructor.

Description: A supervised field experience associated with coaching, managing, or administering sport-related programs. A minimum of 140 hours working directly with participants is required. May not be repeated for credit.

Practicum

SPAD 6023. Graduate Project in Sport Administration

Description: Practical application of philosophical constructs, skills, and best practices associated with the administration of programs in sport, recreation, and leisure services leading to the completion of a formal research-supported program proposal. This course is to be taken during the student's final semester of enrollment.

Lecture

SPAD 6903. Independent Graduate Study in Sport Administration

Prerequisite: Approval of graduate advisor.

Description: Designed to offer the advanced student an opportunity to select a special area of interest in Sport Administration for intensive research. An acceptable research project is required. May be repeated once for credit.

Lecture

SPAD 6951. Special Graduate Topics in Sport Administration

Description: This course is designed for students who have completed all course work required in the major field of study but are still working on the graduate project.

Lecture

SPAD 6953. Special Graduate Topics in Sport Administration

Description: Topic as announced. Major project and/or field study with group sharing and analysis.

Lecture

JUSTIFICATION: The intent of the M.Ed. degree in Sport Administration is to prepare students for leadership and administrative positions in sport, recreation and leisure services. With a liberal arts perspective in mind, a broad, interdisciplinary program of study was designed to prepare students for the challenges posed by today's society. The proposed revisions, while providing a solid core of knowledge and experiences, also allows students increased flexibility in determining a direction of study most relevant to their specific needs and career aspirations. Course options have been expanded, opportunities for a field experience and independent study have been added, and a capstone course has been created requiring students to complete and submit a formal written research-supported program proposal.

13. Dr. Hamilton made a motion to adopt the following graduate course and catalog changes in English; Dr. Carlston seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted (closed).

English

Catalog Change, effective Fall 2011: working with the Foreign-Languages faculty, the Department of English has developed a policy to be added to the Graduate Catalog. Specifically, on page 149, at the end of the existing copy in section “V,” we would like to add the following (below, in bold):

[existing copy] . . . from the college files.

The foreign-language requirement helps prepare graduates to access literature and criticism in languages other than English. Candidates who lack an established background in a foreign language, thus, are advised to enter traditional language classes rather than to register for the exam, preparation for which demands extensive independent study.

If unsuccessful in passing the exam, the candidate immediately should contact the grader to discuss how best to move forward. Moreover, candidates may not apply for re-examination until the semester following the initial attempt. The second attempt must engage different materials, and, before the second attempt is arranged, the candidate must present the Graduate Coordinator evidence of additional preparation.

After a second unsuccessful attempt at passing the MSU exam, the candidate will make arrangements to take the CLEP test in the chosen language. Results of the test will be used to place the candidate in language courses at an appropriate level. Starting at that suggested level, the candidate will complete the requirement by continuing study until the equivalent of four semesters' credit in one language has been earned.

Justification: We believe that the addition of this procedure will allow us effectively to assist graduate students who do not bring the required four semesters of language work into their graduate studies in our department.

14. Dr. Hamilton made a motion to adopt the following graduate course and catalog changes in English; Dr. Carlston seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted (closed).

Change in Course Title and Description, effective June 2011:

From: ENGL 5013. ~~The Teaching of Writing~~

To: ENGL 5013. Introduction to Composition Studies

Description: ~~A workshop for developing effective methods of teaching writing in public schools.~~ This course provides students with an introduction to the multiple theories of writing and familiarizes them with a rich range of composition pedagogies.

New Course Addition, effective June 2011:

ENGL 6113. Seminar: Studies in Language and Rhetoric

Description: Study in depth of one selected aspect of language and/or rhetoric.

15. Dr. Hamilton made a motion to adopt the following graduate course and catalog changes in Psychology; Dr. Watson seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted (closed).

NOTE from AC 5/16/11: Dr. Hamilton and Ms. Inglish will meet at a later date and work together to provide consistent wording throughout the Graduate Catalog (i.e.: Graduate School and not Graduate Studies).

Catalog Changes, effective Fall 2011 (changes in bold/italics)

Admission Requirements and Procedures

Application for admission to the Midwestern State University Graduate Program in Psychology is made to the:

Graduate Coordinator Psychology Department
c/o The Graduate School
Midwestern State University
3410 Taft Blvd.
Wichita Falls, TX 76308

The Psychology Department Graduate Coordinator or Graduate Recruiter will provide the applicant with all necessary application materials upon request, including an Application for Admission to the Graduate Studies at Midwestern State University, Application for Admission to the Masters in Clinical/Counseling Psychology program, and three Student Recommendation forms, and Scholarship Application Form (~~These forms are also available online at~~ http://libarts.mwsu.edu/psychology/ma/Prospective_Students_index.asp). These completed forms, together with transcripts of all undergraduate work, and Graduate Record Examination scores, ~~and a letter from the applicant stating his/her goals in psychology~~, are to be returned to the Graduate Recruiter who will pass them to the Psychology Department Graduate Coordinator for distribution ~~who will pass them to the other members of the Psychology Graduate Admissions Committee for their consideration.~~

The Psychology Graduate Admissions Committee votes on each application with the majority opinion prevailing. In cases of a tie, the tie breaking vote is cast by the Dean of the Prothro-Yeager College of Humanities and Social Sciences.

Applications for fall admission should be completed by July 1. For spring admission, the deadline for completion of applications is November 1. Ordinarily, no applications will be processed unless they are complete. Although applications received or completed after these deadlines will be considered, no guarantee can be made that processing will be finished in time for registration. Early applicants will receive first consideration for admission as well as financial aid. Unless special arrangements have been made with the department chair, no student will be allowed to enroll in any graduate psychology course unless he or she has applied for admission and has been accepted into the program. Under no circumstances may students continue in graduate psychology classes beyond the first semester of enrollment without applying to and being accepted into the program.

~~In addition to completing the Psychology Program application materials, applicants must also complete a separate university application. An application for admission to graduate study at Midwestern State University is available at <http://www.mwsu.edu>. Paper copies of the application are available through the Office of the Graduate School.~~

Admission standards are somewhat flexible, but the following guidelines are used by members of the Psychology Graduate Admissions Committee in making admission decisions:

1. Undergraduate degree from a regionally accredited college or university.

This degree need not be in psychology, but non-majors can anticipate a substantial amount of leveling work.

2. Undergraduate background.

Applicants should have completed course work in the following areas of psychology with a grade of C or better: introductory psychology, statistics, learning, experimental psychology, and one or more courses in the clinical area of psychology (e.g., clinical, abnormal, personality).

(Note: It may be possible for some of these courses to be completed as leveling work at Northwestern, and in some cases, while the student is enrolled in graduate psychology courses.)

3. Unconditional admission.

In order to be admitted unconditionally to the graduate program in psychology, the applicant should present an overall grade point average of 3.0 or higher, competitive scores on the Graduate Record Examination taken within five years from the date of the application, and should provide three satisfactory letters of recommendation from individuals in a position to judge the applicant's potential for success in graduate study. In addition, the applicant must have completed all or most of the undergraduate courses listed above. GRE scores are not the sole criterion for consideration of applicants nor are they the primary criterion to end consideration of applicants. All factors are considered in the admissions process, but are not specifically weighted.

4. Conditional admission.

Students who are not eligible for unconditional admission may be admitted on a conditional basis at the discretion of the Psychology Graduate Admissions Committee. Removal from conditional admission status depends upon completion of all assigned undergraduate leveling course work and acceptable performance in the program.

5. Continued enrollment in the graduate psychology program is dependent upon continuing satisfactory performance in three areas: academic, assistantship (if applicable), and clinical (when applicable) as discussed below.

Students are expected to participate actively in classes and in relevant extracurricular training opportunities, and to maintain a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 (B) or higher. It is further expected that students will receive no more than a single grade lower than a B.

Performance of Graduate Assistants is evaluated by the student's supervisor. Research Assistants are expected to work reliably with minimal prompting by the supervisor and to perform assigned tasks in a timely and satisfactory manner. Graduate Teaching Assistants are expected to conform to all university and program standards, policies, and procedures in the performance of their teaching duties.

Clinical skills are monitored by all clinical faculty members who are in a position to do so. These evaluations include readiness for initial practicum assignment, performance within clinical practicum settings, and observations of behavior outside the practicum.

Deficiencies in any of the three evaluation areas will prompt a General Performance Appraisal of the student, at which time deficiencies will be outlined, corrective actions specified, and a timetable established for completing these corrective actions. Failure to rectify deficiencies in a timely and acceptable manner will result in dismissal from the program.

Academic Requirements

The academic requirements for the Master of Arts degree in psychology are listed below.

I. General University Requirements (see page 21).

II. 50-hour Curriculum, Thesis Track. Fifty (50) hours to include 5103 or 5123, 5113, 5133, 5143, 5153, 5163, 5233, 5843, 6103, 6113, 6123, 6143, 6153, 6163, 6983, 6993, and two semesters of 5901.

III. 50-hour Curriculum, Non-thesis Track. Fifty (50) hours to include 5103 or 5123, 5113, 5133, 5143, 5153, 5163, 5233, 5843, 6103, 6113, 6123, 6143, 6153, 6163, and two semesters of 5901, plus six (6) additional hours. Students choosing this option must also write a substantial research paper to satisfy university requirements for the M.A. degree.

IV. 60-hour Curriculum, Thesis Track. Sixty (60) hours to include 5103, 5113, 5133, 5143, 5153, 5163, 5213, 5233, 5843, 5863, 6103, 6113, 6123, 6143, 6153, 6163, 6173, 6983, 6993, plus three (3) additional hours.

V. ~~60-hour Curriculum, Non-thesis Track. Sixty (60) hours to include 5103, 5113, 5133, 5143, 5153, 5163, 5213, 5233, 5843, 5863, 6103, 6113, 6123, 6143, 6153, 6163, 6173, plus nine (9) hours. Students choosing this option must also write a substantial research paper to satisfy university requirements for the M.A. degree.~~

 - PSYC 5843 Multicultural Psychology*
 - PSYC 5863 Neuropsychology*
 - b. Research/Methodology Core:
 - PSYC 5113 Research and Statistical Analysis*
 - PSYC 6983 & 6993 Thesis OR Applied Research Paper*
 - c. Applied Core:
 - PSYC 5103 Cognitive Behavior Therapy*
 - PSYC 5133 Intellectual Assessment*
 - PSYC 5143 Professional Issues*
 - PSYC 6103 Vocational Assessment and Counseling*
 - PSYC 6113 Individual Psychotherapy*
 - PSYC 6123 Therapeutic and Psychoeducational Groups*
 - PSYC 6143 Personality Assessment*
 - PSYC 6153 Practicum I*
 - PSYC 6163 Practicum II*
 - PSYC 6173 Practicum III*
 - d. Electives such that the total number of hours completed meets or exceeds 60- total hours.
 - e. Participation or attendance in at least two events (e.g. conference, annual meeting, continuing education workshop) hosted by a professional association or organization beyond Midwestern State University (e.g., American Psychological Association, Southwestern Psychological Association, Texas Psychological Association, Greenbelt Counseling Association).
- III. 50-hour Curriculum:
 - a. General/Theoretical Core:
 - PSYC 5153 Theories of Personality*
 - PSYC 5163 Psychopathology*
 - PSYC 5213 Theories of Counseling*

Additional Information

Ms. Merkle provided information on the Mustangs Pathway.

Mustangs Pathway

Purpose: To assist students who do not meet beginning freshman admission criteria

Justification: To assist beginning freshman applicants to meet MSU undergraduate admission criteria and implementation of Uniform Admission Policy, MSU Admissions would offer Mustangs Pathway as a bridge admission status for students applying to the fall term. Students would enroll in a summer semester either at MSU or another regionally accredited college/university. Participants must enroll in six hours with a minimum grade point average of 2.0 required for fall admission.

Program Criteria:

- Student applied for admission and submitted necessary credentials to qualify for the program assessed individually by MSU Admissions
- Student is TSI compliant
- Student has submitted an official seventh semester transcript from his or her high school or final high school transcript, reflecting class rank and grade point average
- Student has submitted official ACT and or SAT scores to MSU Admissions
- Minimum composite ACT score of 17, combined SAT of 830 using concordance table standards
- Student will submit an application to the Mustangs Pathway program to MSU Admissions by June 15
- If student chooses to attend MSU for the summer, his or her fall application will be moved to the approved summer term, no new application fee
- If a student chooses another regionally accredited college/university, MSU Admissions will advise on transfer equivalency
- Student will submit official collegiate transcript reflecting minimum 2.0 grade point average before formal admittance to the fall term
- Dual/concurrent credit earned while in high school may apply to the six hour minimum
- Students who meet these criteria if admissible will follow conditional admission requirements and be advised through Academic Success Center.

MSU Admissions will review each applicant on an individual basis. Approval for participation in Mustangs Pathway does not guarantee admission to the fall term, housing or financial aid

Adjournment
