Scholarships

English Scholarships
The Department of English offers several generous academic, need-based, and technical and creative writing scholarships each semester. To learn more, visit mwsu.edu/academics/libarts/english/scholarships.

MSU Academic Merit Scholarships
Midwestern State University offers an automatic scholarship program for beginning freshman and transfer students, automatic scholarships for valedictorians and salutatorians, and distinguished honor scholarships. Learn more at mswu.edu/admissions/scholarships.

Degree Programs

The English undergraduate and graduate programs provide a broad-based educational experience that encompasses literature, technical writing, composition and rhetoric, film studies, and creative writing.

Enjoy small class sizes and friendly, knowledgeable faculty who are not only dedicated teachers but also regular contributors of scholarship in their areas of expertise.

Clubs and Organizations

Sigma Tau Delta
Sigma Tau Delta English honor society members volunteer as mentors at local schools, work with the Child Hunger Project (Power Packs) at the Wichita Falls Area Food Bank, and volunteer on-site with Habitat for Humanity. Members also participate in national and regional conventions.

Voices Literary and Visual Arts Magazine
Voices, the English department’s annual creative magazine, invites current and former MSU students across campus to submit their creative works for publication. Voices is published by students for students.

The Arts & Literature Society
The Arts & Literature Society is open to students of every discipline; all you need is an interest in film, music, literature, theatre, and/or the visual arts. Our activities include museum and nature excursions, writing workshops with visiting creative writers, faculty and student lectures, book clubs, volunteer work, and more. Contact Kirsten.Lodge@mwsu.edu to join our email list.

Financial Aid

MSU offers a number of financial aid programs including
- Mustang Guarantee Program
- Academic scholarships
- College Work Study and student employment
- Grants and loans

MSU Writing Center

The MSU Writing Center provides tutoring and consulting to all members of the campus community — undergraduates, graduates, staff, and faculty. We provide instruction and support to writers who want to become more effective communicators. For more information, visit mwsu.edu/writingcenter.
WHAT OUR STUDENTS ARE SAYING:

“My experience with the English department has been phenomenal. I’ve had many opportunities to develop as an active participant of the English field through the Arts & Literature Society, Voices magazine, and the EURECA program.” — Cody Parish

“The English department is a wonderful community full of professors and students who truly care about their field and each other. The second floor of Bea Wood is definitely where I feel most at home on campus.” — Danielle Schwetner

“The English program has helped me hone the mental skills necessary to better understand the world around me and allowed me to connect to and appreciate the rich culture that I belong to.” — Sean Pinkos

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

The critical thinking and writing skills gained by our graduates help them find work as educators, journalists, technical writers, publishers, and editors to name a few. Some of our recent graduates are pursuing higher degrees in law, library science, and English at schools such as SUNY Buffalo, Arizona State, UT-Dallas, TCU, and Middlebury College in Vermont.
