

Add Virtual Classroom to a Module

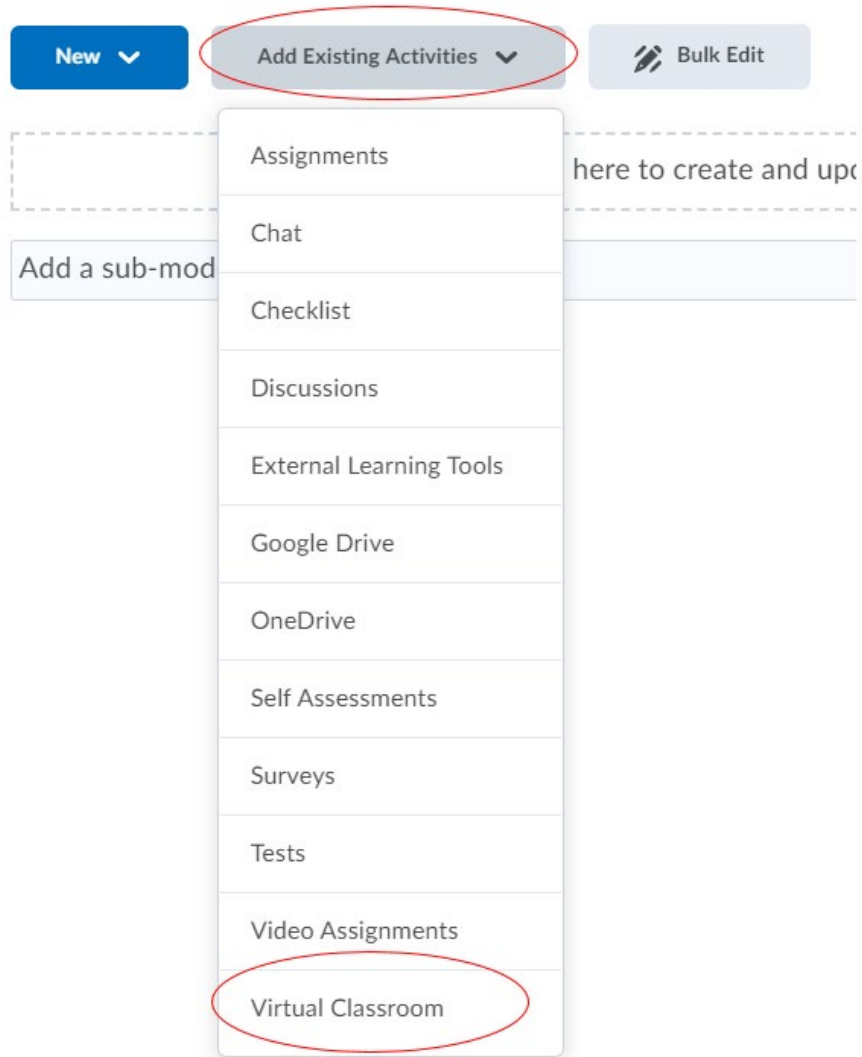

Virtual Classroom is another function in D2L that is considered an "activity." This means it can be added to a Module on the content page.

There are a few reasons why this is recommended:

1. It creates an association with the course material.
2. It makes it easier for the student to locate.
3. If you record the meeting, it will allow you to track who has watched the video at a later time. If you do not add it to a Module, you won't be able to see who has watched the recording.

Add to a Module:

1. Navigate to the Module you want to add the Virtual Classroom meeting to.
2. Click Add Existing Activities and select Virtual Classroom.

3. Select the Virtual Classroom Meeting from the list that you want to add to the Module. Or, you can schedule a new meeting.

4. It will populate it as a Topic in the Module. The student can access the meeting by going to the Module and clicking on the Topic.

Note: If you schedule the meeting from Content, it will also exist in the Virtual Classroom tool itself. If you schedule the meeting from the Virtual Classroom tool, you will have to make sure to remember to add it to the Module you want it in.
